By Road

Travelling M5 southbound the motorway ends near Exeter and becomes the A38 "Devon Expressway". Continue on the A38 through Plymouth into Cornwall across the Tamar Bridge. It is recommended that you leave the A38 at Dobwalls (at the roundabout, a mile after the Liskeard turn-off) and join the A390 towards St Austell. About half a mile before reaching Lostwithiel you will see Downend Garage and petrol station on the left. After passing the petrol station take the first turning on the left (Grenville Road) and then left again after approximately 300 yards (Lanwithan Road). Follow this road for 3 miles, taking care, as it is very narrow in places. Lerryn is approached over a narrow stone river bridge, follow the road round past the village shop and the Ship Inn. Puddleduck Cottage is on the right, the second cottage past the Ship Inn.

By Rail

The nearest Railway Stations are Lostwithiel (3 miles) or Bodmin Parkway (8 miles).

Thereafter the journey will have to be completed by Taxi (no bus service). A reliable Taxi can be organised by Pelynt Private Hire, Tel: (01503) 220901.
